February Is Library Lovers' Month

Library Lover's Month is a month-long celebration of all types of libraries (and librarians). We know you love us, but now you can show us! This is a time for everyone to recognize the value of libraries and to work to assure that the Nation's libraries will continue to serve us. Our library is more than just a place for books—it has something for everyone in the community. Stop by and pick up one of "Love Your Library" bookmarks. For information about this celebration and some ideas of how to express your love, visit: www.librarysupport.net/librarylovers.

And a list of suggested reading, featuring some of the world's unappreciated librarians, visit: www.lakeco.lib.in.us/library_lovers_month.htm.

With Malice Toward None

"Books serve to show a man that those original thoughts of his aren't very new at all." (Abraham Lincoln).

This year commemorates the 200th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birthday with many celebrations planned across the nation.

Born February 12, 1809 in a log cabin in Kentucky, Lincoln made extraordinary efforts to attain knowledge while working on a farm, splitting rails, and keeping store in New Salem, Illinois. Not only a frontiersman, he served as a state legislator, and won election to presidency at a time when the nation's survival was at risk.

A common man, he has become a model American leader. Did you know that Lincoln was a captain in the Black Hawk War, helped found the Republican Party, was the only president ever to receive a patent for a device that lifts boats above shoals, and his favorite sport was wrestling? You can learn more about Abraham Lincoln next time you come in. Here is a sampling of some of our titles about our 16th President.
