Tap Into Your Inner Wisdom

Tuesday, November 1, 7PM

Inner Wisdom is something we all have, but we all have difficulty, at times, accessing that wisdom. We'll have a discussion about how we know our own wisdom and ways to bring it forward in our busy, overscheduled lives. We'll do some exercises together that will allow you to hear that voice more easily and more often.

Presented by Master Life Coach Diane MacKinnon, M.D. Registration requested, walk-ins welcome. Please note the change in time from the usual second Tuesday date.

Community Stories: Soldiers Home & Away

Various Activities September - Nov

Film Marathon:

Saturday, November 5

This fall, nine southern New Hampshire libraries come together to promote community reading and to recognize the contributions of veterans, active military and their families. The project will bring over 50 free events to NH between September 16 and November 12. The purpose is to foster understanding of the men and women returning home from deployment; address the experience of war from the perspective of civilians, veterans and active duty personnel; and open lines of communication.

The library will host a day-long festival of films portraying the Vietnam War from a variety of perspectives on November 5:

- 9:10 AM - Full Metal Jacket
- 11:20 AM - We Were Soldiers
- 1:10 AM - Iron Triangle
- 2:50 AM - Platoon

These programs are supported by NH Humanities.

Girls Who Code

Mondays, starting November 7, 2:30-4:30PM

The Rodgers Memorial Library has partnered with Girls Who Code and is now an official Girls Who Code Club!

The Club is open to all girls in grades 6 -12, and meets once a week on Mondays for two (2) hours. Note that participants will be involved in an ongoing project which will take a number of weeks to complete. (We will not meet on days the library is closed.)

With jobs in computer-related fields projected to increase to 1.4 million by 2020, GWC is committed to closing the gender gap in technology by building the largest pipeline of future female engineers in the United States.

The GWC curriculum is designed for students with a wide range of computer science experience: for students with ZERO computer science experience all the way up to activities that introduce college-level concepts. Learn more about GWC, their mission, and their history by visiting the Girls Who Code website.

Bring your own laptop or feel free to use one of ours. All materials and light refreshments will be provided.

Art Exhibit: Nashua Area Artists' Association

Through the month of November

The community room exhibit this month features art by members of the Nashua Artists' Association.

On Thursday, November 10 from 6-8PM they will hold a reception where you will be able to meet some of the featured artists. Refreshments will be served.

Hannaford Helps: Reusable Bags
