Forgiveness

Tuesday, October 13, 7PM

For some of us, forgiveness doesn't come easily. We wonder why we should let so-and-so off the hook after what they did to us. But forgiveness is something we do for ourselves, not necessarily because it benefits the other person – although it may.

In this presentation we will examine forgiveness through the lens of current medical science, as well as recent self-development thoughts. You will come away with a thorough understanding of what forgiveness is and isn't, as well as a handout with tools to work with forgiveness in your own life.

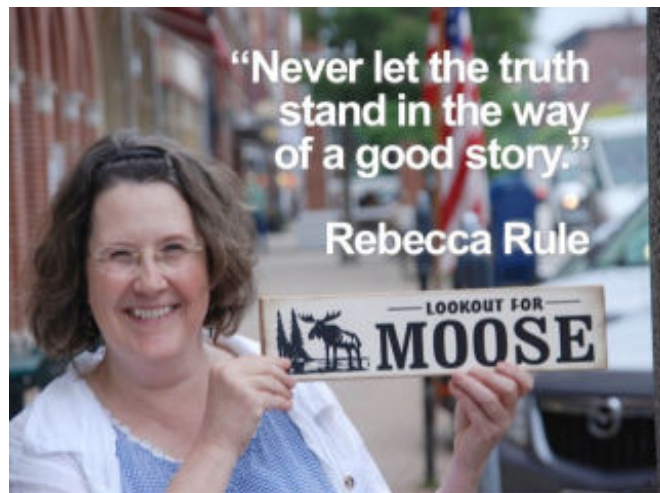

Master Certified Life Coach Diane MacKinnon, MD presents a program on a different life coaching topic each month. Pre-registration is requested, but walk-ins are welcome.

That Reminds Me of a Story: Rebecca Rule

Wednesday, October 21, 7PM

NH Humorist and storyteller Rebecca Rule has made it her mission over the last 20 years to collect stories of New Hampshire. Join her as she tells some of those stories - her favorites are the funny ones - and invites audience members to contribute a few stories of their own.

Rule's books include The Best Revenge: Short Stories; Could Have Been Worse: True Stories, Embellishments and Outright Lies; and Live Free and Eat Pie: A Storyteller's Guide to New Hampshire. She hosts the New Hampshire authors series on NHPTV.

This program is made possible by the Friends of the Library of Hudson, NH and a grant from the NH Humanities Council.

Genealogy Club: Bringing Cemeteries to Life

Friday, October 9, 1:30PM

How do we read and interpret markings on old tombstones? What do some of the symbols mean? Hudson native David Alukonis will share history and anecdotes about local tombstones, markers and historical carvings.

Among David's many accomplishments, he is president of the Hudson Historical Society and a Hudson Cemetery Trustee. He is also a registered taphophile.

Intrigued? Join the Genealogy Club for a hauntingly good discussion... if you dare! The Genealogy Club meets the second Friday of the month and all are welcome.
